

Find a Mediator

Mediation

Mediation is an alternative dispute resolution (ADR) process in which a trained neutral mediator facilitates communication between the parties. Without deciding the issues or imposing a solution on the parties, a mediator enables them to understand and reach a mutually agreeable resolution to their dispute. It helps the parties understand and identify their needs, overlapping interests and any areas of agreement.

In Virginia using a mediation process is voluntary. The mediation process is confidential and used in many proceedings.

Courts in Virginia offer a variety of dispute resolution services. Some of these services may be available at no cost. The Judicial Services Department of the state court administrator's office hosts a general directory of private providers. They also offer a link to Resolution Virginia. Your local court or local law library may offer more information about mediators in your area.

Last updated on June 14, 2022.

How helpful do you find the information on this page?

- Not helpful
- Somewhat helpful
- Very helpful

Please tell us why this page wasn't helpful

- N/A
- Not related to my issue
- Not enough information
- Unclear information

Comment

About text formats

Plain text

- No HTML tags allowed.
- Lines and paragraphs break automatically.
- Web page addresses and email addresses turn into links automatically.

Save

Print

Table of Contents